The City of Monroe and Green County Leaders joined forces to raise over $8,700 from local businesses and community members—added to the City of Monroe’s $5,000 contribution—to install durable recycling bins across local parks. Through focused fundraising and awareness campaigns, this partnership will bring approximately 27 new recycling bins to Monroe’s parks this summer, helping to reduce litter, promote proper recycling, and foster environmental stewardship. Long-term care and maintenance of the bins, including regularly emptying the contents, are already accounted for in the Parks and Recreation budget.

The project’s goal of installing 40 bins is not yet complete. Future support of the project can be directed to the City of Monroe Parks and Recreation. Donations will be greatly appreciated from all those who wish to join us in making a lasting difference in our community.

“Recycling receptacles being added to our parks encourages responsible waste disposal and reduce environmental impact. This initiative helps keep public spaces cleaner and keeps recyclable materials from the landfills. Recycling in our parks isn’t just about keeping our parks clean, its about making an impact on our environment!”

– Josh Trame

Parks & Forestry Supervisor, City of Monroe

“We applaud the Green County Leaders participants for helping to enrich and protect the landscape of our city parks in Monroe by starting a recycling program”, said John Baumann, Colony Brands Foundation President. “The Colony Brands Foundation is pleased to support this effort to help maintain our vibrant parks for generations to come.”
